Euclid Network

Roadmap for 2018 and beyond

We have a hugely ambitious programme, especially as in 2018 we begin our transition from London to our new home in The Hague.

Euclid Network has been selected as the key network to support the demand side of the social enterprise finance market in Europe over the next four years - alongside EVPA on the supply side.

Funded by the EU's EaSI programme, our new initiatives will include a social enterprise market monitor, a knowledge centre, social enterprise roadmaps for cities & regions, a good practice guide for migrant integration and a research review.

Word from
Neven Marinović,
President of

“This is what’s unique and special about Europe: its civil society and its social market economy - how it operates, how it’s in a way fragile but also resilient, and how it’s able to innovate. This is what Euclid Network is about.

We need to get different actors working in concert including business, finance and the State – with our new strategy and EU funding, we can rally social enterprises and CSOs right across the EU and its Neighbourhood and help them to help each other to be fit for the future.”
